

Brilliant managers make great business

The success of any business depends heavily on the effectiveness of its managers.

Strong managers make smart, informed decisions ensuring your business is efficient, embraces opportunity and averts needless risk.

Cidori's Management and Leadership Apprenticeships Levels 3 - 5 offer bespoke management and leadership training opportunities to make your best people even better, leading your business to increased performance and profitability.

What do we offer?

Cidori's Management and Leadership Apprenticeships programmes deliver a range of flexible training in management and business to vocational levels 3 – 5.

Our training framework is flexible and tailored entirely to your business. It is a core part of our highly successful workforce apprenticeships programme.

Upon completion, learners will be able to demonstrate the knowledge, understanding and skills needed for effective management and acquire the abilities and aptitudes vital for successful leadership. Learned competencies include:

- key principles of management and leadership
- recruiting, selecting, appraising and developing staff
- principles of budgets and financial information
- principles of project management
- improving your own management and leadership performance
- supporting organisational change initiatives

In turn, your business can expect to benefit from:

- improved workforce productivity
- increased confidence and morale
- improved innovation and creativeness
- a pipeline of skilled leaders
- ...and much more
